The website GENDER BALANCE IN RESEARCH - NORWAY has rapidly grown to be an important TOOL for policymakers, bureaucrats and leaders in the research sector. Interviews with key stakeholders, up-to-date statistics, tips for measures that can be implemented at your institution and other news make the website AN AGENT FOR CHANGE as well.

Brought to you by a committee with a mission: THE NORWEGIAN COMMITTEE FOR GENDER BALANCE IN RESEARCH has been appointed by the Ministry of Education and Research for its third term. The Committee provides recommendations on national and local measures to promote gender balance in research and raise awareness about issues related to gender equality. The Committee gives input and support to all research institutions, ministries and the Research Council of Norway. E-mail us at kif@uhr.no
